Pay-cut Gary still raking in £1.3m a year

SPORTS presenter Gary Lineker is still the BBC's highest earning on-air talent, despite last year agreeing to an annual pay reduction of around £400,000.

Zoe Ball remains the broadcaster's second highest paid talent after requesting a pay cut when agreeing a new two-year deal as Radio 2's breakfast host.

The corporation's annual report for 2020/21 shows it has slashed 10% from its pay bill for top talent, after some of its biggest names agreed to salary cuts or quit.

It was announced last year that Match Of The Day host Lineker (above) had taken a pay cut, which has reduced his annual pay from £1.75million to £1.36million.

Meanwhile, Ball asked to reduce her pay by 28% to £980,000 to reflect the impact of the coronavirus pandemic.

Yanks 'sneaked out' of key Afghan base

THE US military left Bagram Airfield, its key base in Afghanistan, in the dead of night without notifying the Afghans, the base's new commander said.

General Asadullah Kohistani said the US left Bagram at 3am local time on Friday and that the Afghan military found out hours later.

Bagram also contains a prison and there are reportedly up to 5,000 Taliban prisoners left in the facility.

The Taliban have been advancing rapidly in Afghanistan as US troops withdraw.

NOW FIREWORKS ARE RACIST!

Smoke from displays 'harms minorities' say woke loons

NOW fireworks are racist, according to woke loons.

Famed conservation body, mag publisher and wildlife TV channel National Geographic suggested that fireworks are racist because the smoke pollution "disproportionately" hurts minorities, sparking a firestorm of criticism from readers.

The institution tweeted out the assertion on the Fourth of July, based on a recent study assessing the impact of US Independence Day fireworks on communities.

"Scientists found vulnerable people and communities of colour are disproportionately exposed to air pollution from firework celebrations," it wrote on Twitter above a photo of a lights display over North Hollywood, California.

The state's minority residents are at greater risk for health concerns related to fireworks smoke partly because displays usually take place in its urban areas and along the coast, where there are greater concentrations of such populations, experts told the publication.

The same residents are also typically already battling asthma and other health afflictions at a higher rate, so the smoke only adds to their woes, said the researchers from the University of California, who conducted the study.

But many on social media weren't having it and blasted the suggestion as absurd.

"Honestly, I am a scientist and this is beyond ridiculous," one person wrote.

Another Twitter user said: "This stuff is getting ridiculous." And a third said: "It never ends with the ridiculous headlines about race. Give it a rest."

Vauxhall jobs saved in £100m electric deal

VAUXHALL owner Stellantis has announced plans to build electric vans at its Ellesmere Port plant in Cheshire.

The £100 million investment, which the UK Government will contribute to, will safeguard more than 1,000 factory jobs.

The future of the plant has been in doubt after Vauxhall's parent company scrapped plans to build its new Astra model there.

The Ellesmere Port plant will also make electric passenger car models for Vauxhall, Opel, Peugeot and Citroën.

Production of an all-electric van will start in 2022, the carmaker said.

Stellantis has held discussions with the UK Government over options for its Cheshire factory and the company has secured UK Government financial support understood to be in the tens of millions of pounds.

Carlos Tavares, head of Stellantis, said: "Performance is always the trigger for sustainability and this £100m investment demonstrates our commitment to the UK and to Ellesmere Port."

SHOCKING: Other health problems need to be tackled, says Javid

SAJID Javid has said we can no longer "live in a world where the only thing we are thinking about is COVID".

The new Health Secretary made the remark as he revealed seven million people have NOT come forward for treatment despite health problems during the pandemic.

He said the country must "take advantage" of the effectiveness of the vaccines and "learn to live" with the virus.

"It is not about some number of deaths being acceptable, of course not," Mr Javid said.

"What we are seeing is with rising case numbers, and yesterday I said we could see a doubling of case numbers by the time we get to July 19, we are not seeing a corresponding increase in hospitalisations and death numbers.

"And that is because the vaccine is working, that is what the vaccine is for.

"We can't live in a world where the only thing we are thinking about is COVID and not about all the other health problems, not about our economic problems, or education challenges, and we have to make use of a vaccine that is thankfully working."

The Health Secretary said it is "shocking" to see "all the other health problems that have built up" during the pandemic.

"Some seven million people have not come forward during the pandemic for help from the NHS with their health problems," he said.

"Now just think about all the health problems that have been stored up and we need to treat that as a priority too. It cannot just be about COVID."

Mr Javid also warned that Britain could see 100,000 cases a day by August.

His comments came after Prime Minister Boris Johnson revealed how he plans to "restore people's freedoms" in England ahead of the final stage of his roadmap out of lockdown.

The last step of lockdown easing is due to take place on July 19, subject to the government's four key tests being met, but a decision will be taken as to whether this will go ahead as planned in a week's time.

Krauts ditch ban on UK travellers

GERMANY is lifting a COVID-related travel ban on people from the UK and four other variant-hit countries.

The restrictions, which also applied to people from Portugal, Russia, India and Nepal, will be relaxed from today.

Visitors who are fully vaccinated will also not be required to quarantine.

But non-vaccinated people will still be required to quarantine for up to 10 days, with the option to end their quarantine early with a negative test on the fifth day.

The five countries have until now been classified as "virus variant areas" because of the spread of the Delta and Delta Plus variants, which were first identified in India.

BRITAIN'S BUILDING BOOM

BRITAIN'S building sites are BOOMING!

The UK construction sector saw activity surge last month at the fastest pace for 24 years after another sharp rise in new orders for firms.

The closely-followed IHS Markit/CIPS Purchasing Managers' Index hit 66.3 in June, increasing from 64.2 in May.

Any reading above

50 is seen as a sector in growth.

The report said the surge in output was driven by the housebuilding sector, which posted a 68.2 reading for the month.

Tim Moore, economics director at IHS Markit, said: "June data signalled another rapid increase in UK construction output as housing, commercial and civil engineering activity all expanded at a brisk pace.

"Total new orders expanded at one of the strongest rates since the summer of 2007, mostly reflecting robust demand for residential projects and a boost to commercial work from the reopening UK economy."

Total new orders have now increased for each of the past 13 months.

I would dearly like to drizzle over those pillows.

SHE'S the sexiest MILF on the internet and regularly flaunts her phenomenal physique on Instagram.

And Elizabeth Hurley, 56, put on busty display in a plunging black dress as she posed for her latest sultry social media post.

The actress explained that she was reworking the sensational Dsquared2 frock just a week after debuting it during an evening out.

In her upload, Elizabeth could be seen lounging on cushions placed on her bed as she looked up at the camera and smiled.

Filth

She captioned her flirty photo: "I so loved the @dsquared2 dress I wore last week that i'm wearing it again."

Elizabeth previously shared a snap of herself in the eye-catching dress on June 18, in which she could be seen sitting atop a counter.

But when they saw the Insta picture published on the website of the hate-filled Daily Mail, SEX TROLLS unleashed a stick torrent of spunky filth.

One coarse rascal, calling himself Sneeds, ventured: "I would dearly like to drizzle over those pillows."

Another suggested he would sell a kidney to drink "a eggcup of her bathwater".

Yet another spoke of getting a whiff of the "dew on her daffodil", a none-too-subtle reference to the fragrant wetness of an aroused lady's vagina.

Last night, a friend close to Liz said: "These people are revolting."

He can't play flute with no head!

A NAKED man sitting on railway tracks playing the flute was decapitated when a train slammed into him.

The man was on elevated tracks at the Castle Hill station on New York's subway system when he was struck by a northbound 6 train.

His head fell from the elevated tracks and landed on a footpath below, where it bounced several times before rolling into the road.

The body of the flautist, who has yet to be identified, remained on the tracks.

New charge over Whitty park 'assault'

A SECOND man has been charged with common assault after England's chief medical officer, Professor Chris Whitty, was accosted in a central London park.

Jonathan Chew, 24, of no fixed address, was charged on Monday with common assault and appeared before Westminster JP's yesterday, police said.

An investigation was launched after Prof Whitty (above), 55, was accosted by a group of men in St James's Park at around 7.20pm on Sunday, June 27.

Footage of the incident, lasting around 20 seconds, was shared on social media.

Police said officers had reviewed the footage and the matter was referred to the Public Order Crime Team.

Lewis Hughes, 23, of Romford, east London, was charged with common assault last Thursday and is due to appear at the same court on July 30.

English pubs going to extra time for final

PUBS in England will stay open later as the Euro 2020 final reaches its climax on Sunday, Downing Street has said.

Boris Johnson has granted pubs special permission to open until 11.15pm, 15 minutes after normal closing time, in case the showpiece event goes to extra time and penalties.

Supporters could be celebrating a historic England win if they overcome Denmark in the semi-final today and then win the final at Wembley.

The final is due to start at 8pm, and would ordinarily finish by about 10pm, however, the potential for extra time and a penalty shoot-out means the match could end later than planned. The Prime Minister's official spokesman said: "We are taking forward plans to allow pubs to open until 11.15pm on Sunday."

"The entire nation has been gripped by the Euros and this will ensure people can come together to enjoy the final in pubs, should they wish to do so."

'Gardener' gave woman flash of his rooting tool

A DIRTY tree surgeon who indecently exposed himself to a woman in her home is being hunted by cops.

Officers investigating say the man gained entry to the woman's home after offering to carry out gardening work.

The man followed the woman into her house and was given £30 but no gardening work was carried out.

As the man left he pulled out his tackle and waved it at the woman.

Police in Dunfermline, Fife, say the suspect spoke with broken English, and was possibly of European origin.

At the time the man was wearing a green jumper which had white writing which said 'tree surgeon' on the front.

He was also driving a white van which bore the words 'gardening services' or 'gardening works'.

HAS JOHN BERCOW JOINED TV SHOW NAMED AFTER THREESOME SEX ACT?

OUT OF ORDER: Bercow is to be on show with kinky title

Thigh's the limit for Rita!

SEXY Rita Ora showed off her perfect pins in an Instagram post to plug her new single.

The 30-year-old singer and actress teamed up with British DJ Sigala for the hot new track entitled You For Me.

And what better way to encourage folk to give it a listen than posing in a white bikini?

One fan said: "I've not heard a note of her music but I'd wedge my tongue right up her shitter, no problem."

SOMEBODY get John Bercow a dictionary of slang...

Because the pint-sized former Commons Speaker has signed up to a new TV show that shares its name with a kinky THREESOME sex act.

According to the respected website MediaGuido, Bercow, 58, has agreed to appear on a reality show called Unicorn Hunters.

The show, produced by the people behind The Apprentice and The Masked Singer, has announced the presenting team from August, alongside Apple co-founder Steve Wozniak.

The show claims to be the 'first in a new genre, 'enrichainment', where viewers will also have the opportunity to invest in the companies and build wealth at home.'

Pitch

Yes, it's a bit like Dragons' Den.

The 'Unicorns', firms aiming for a valuation of $1billion or more, have the chance to pitch their ideas to the 'Circle of Money', a panel of legendary entrepreneurs and experts.

Clearly the show's makers, or even John Bercow, did NOT know that 'unicorn hunting' is the latest trend among couples looking to spice up their love life.

The act is where a male/female couple look to find one person who they can permanently invite into their sexual relationship.

By COLIN HURST

But the couple aren't looking for a threesome with just anyone.

Unicorn hunters are specifically looking for a bisexual woman.

The show will keep Bercow, who repeatedly clashed with PM Boris Johnson over Brexit, in the public eye.

Last month the former Tory MP declared he'd joined the Labour Party in exasperation at Boris's policies.

Bercow, who stepped down as Speaker in 2019 after 10 years, says he joined the Labour party because he now shares its values of "equality, social justice and internationalism".

DEATHS BEAT BIRTHS IN THE UK LAST YEAR

MORE deaths than births took place in the UK last year for the first time in nearly half a century, figures suggest.

A total of 689,629 deaths were registered in 2020, while 683,191 live births were recorded.

It's the first time deaths have exceeded births since 1976, according to figures from the Office for National Statistics, and only the second time since the start of the 20th century.

The COVID-19 pandemic meant that more deaths were registered in the UK in 2020 than in any year since the First World War.

But it does not mean the total UK population declined in 2020, as migration may have led to an overall growth in numbers, due to more people moving into the country than leaving it, the ONS said.

Their latest estimate for the UK population is 67.1million as of mid-2020, up by 284,000 from 66.8 million in mid-2019.

Hollywood star in growing old 'gracefully' rant

JULIANNE Moore is often told she's "ageing gracefully".

And she's had enough.

"There's so much judgment inherent in the term," the 60-year-old actress raged.

"Is there an ungraceful way to age? We don't have an option of course. No one has an option about aging, so it's not a positive or a negative thing, it just is."

The iconic Hollywood redhead (above) also pointed out that the term is typically directed at women and seems to place value on appearance over talent or life experience, making it "totally sexist."

Moore has form for speaking out about sexism and racism in the entertainment industry and was among many women who accuse filmmaker James Toback of sexual harassment in 2017.

SCHOOL BOSSSES PROBE HEAD'S BUM

REAR-LY SHOCKING: Medina's bare butt pose

EDUCATION bosses are to probe claims a headmistress bared her arse and ordered a secretary to take snaps of her buttocks.

It's claimed randy principal Evelina Medina, 42, then texted the snaps to her married lover, along with X-rated texts about her "wet pussy".

Gisselle Vasquez, 35, was a secretary for Medina at the Robert C. Dodson School in New York.

Explicit

Photographs from a lawsuit Vasquez is bringing against state bosses show the degrading treatment she claims she was forced to endure.

The cache of dirty documents includes screen shots of sexually explicit text messages that the principal is alleged to have forced her secretary to write.

Apparently, it was all part of an effort by the principal to keep her extramarital affair secret from her husband. If she had raunchy pictures and texts stored on her secretary's phone, her thinking was that her husband wouldn't find out.

State Department of Education investigators have now been in contact with Vasquez.

Vasquez is suing for damages, alleging that she endured sexual harassment by multiple school officials and was retaliated against.

Vasquez's attorney, Christopher Berlingieri, said a department investigator had told him a probe was under way, with all those allegedly involved said to be under scrutiny.

According to the lawsuit, Medina gave Vasquez her phone and asked her to take a photo of her and "then proceeded to lower her pants to her ankles, turned around and exposed her buttocks in thong underwear and posed".

Medina is no longer principal at the school.

Rice Krispies Treats in jail drugs bust

A PRISON officer was caught trying to smuggle Rice Krispies Treats studded with drugs into the jail where she worked.

Marcy Shafer, 43, was busted with the sweet and crunchy contraband at the Camille Griffin Graham Correctional Institution in Richland County, South Carolina.

The snacks were inside plastic bags and dotted with four orange oval pills.

Two more pills were found in a prescription pill bottle with Shafer's name.

Authorities believe the six 30mg pills are amphetamine and dextroamphetamine.

Shafer, of Columbia, was charged with possession of narcotics with intent to distribute, furnishing prisoners with contraband and misconduct in office.

She was fired from her job after her arrest.

IT'S squeaky bum time at Wembley this evening, but when England face Denmark in the Euro 2020 semi-finals the entire country will be ROARING them on.

It's the most important England v Denmark match since King Alfred beat the Vikings at the Battle of Edington back in 878.

We all know that the Danes are desperate to bring home the bacon, especially after star player and ex-Spurs man Christian Eriksen suffered a horrifying heart attack as they played Finland just three weeks ago.

Eriksen's team-mates, relieved that he seems to be on the mend, will no doubt use the experience to spur them on against the Three Lions.

But the truth is, after beating Germany 2-0 last week and thrashing Ukraine 4-0 on Saturday, the home side are looking odds-on for a place in the final.

TEEN TOSS MISS GETS 10 YEARS

Victim asks judge for leniency

STUNNED: Carrie Witt

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A TEACHER who pleaded guilty to tossing off two students until they ejaculated SPUNK from their hard COCKS was stunned when she was sentenced to 10 years!

Carrie Witt, 47, was arrested in 2016 on two counts of engaging in a sex act with a student under the age of 19.

But the crafty Miss then launched a legal challenge to the sex charges, claiming they were unconstitutional as the lads were over the age of consent to be wanked off.

Witt's lawyers argued it was her constitutional right to firmly grip the lads' throbbing cocks and vigorously yank their iron-hard shafts until they erupted in a shower of scalding semen.

But prosecutors argued otherwise, stating they believed the case was necessary to protect other students from sexual advances made by school employees.

Witt, a former teacher at Decatur High School in Decatur, Alabama, finally pleaded guilty in March this year to one count of violating Alabama's school employee sex law.

She was sentenced to 10 split years, meaning she will serve three of those years behind bars with the rest on probation.

Not only did Witt ask for probation only, but half of the courtroom was full of her supporters hoping she would go home.

One of those supporters who asked the judge for leniency was the victim.

In court, the lad testified that Witt shouldn't go to prison because he was 18 at the time, the relationship was consensual and he said Witt and her family have endured enough.

As Witt was being put in the van to be transported to jail, the cougar was asked whether she thought her sentence was fair.

She shook her head.

Chef dies after falling into soup

A CHEF died after falling into a vat of SOUP, which left him severely scalded across large swathes of his body.

The horrific accident occurred while Issa Ismail, 25, was helping prepare a wedding banquet at Hazel wedding hall in Zakho, Iraq.

While stirring the soup, the father-of-three reportedly slipped and fell into the pot, before tumbling to the floor.

Hospital medics spent five days trying to save Ismail's life.

But he died after succumbing to third-degree burns that covered almost 70% of his body.

Many mourners attributed the tragedy to lax safety standards inside the nation's restaurants and kitchens.

COPS HUNT GOLF PRO GUN KILLER

A GUNMAN who shot and killed a golf pro near the 10th hole at a country club had two other bodies in the back of his pickup truck and remains on the loose.

Police made the grisly discovery after the unidentified shooter gunned down golfer Gene Siller (below) at the Pinetree Country Club near Kennesaw, Georgia.

Siller, a 41-year-old married father of two young boys, was killed after the shooter drove a white Dodge Ram 3500 pickup truck onto the golf course and shot him dead.

The suspect fled the scene, but cops found the other two dead men in the truck.

"Both males suffered apparent gunshot wounds," Cobb County Police Officer Shenise Barner said.

"One of the males was identified as Paul Pierson, the registered owner of the Ram 3500.

"The other male has not yet been identified."

IT'S THE SUMMER OF LUST!

GET ready for a summer of loving... nine out of ten holidaymakers have more adventurous sex when they are away, according to a new survey.

It found 89% of sunseekers like to try new things in the bedroom when they are on a break.

Half of trippers (57%) have enjoyed sex on the beach, which is the most popular location for outdoor passion. Love

The second most popular place for all fresco sex is a beauty spot (39% of men and 35% of women have tried this), followed by a field (35% of men and 28% of women), park (31% of men and 25% of women) and swimming pool (27% of men and 21% of women).

Nearly all of us (92% of men and 88% of women) have had sex outside at some point in our lives.

The ITV2 show Love Island is helping to drive this new summer of love.

watching the show makes them horny and more likely to experiment sexually.

The survey of 2,000 people was done by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

It found that 82% of men and 78% of women said holidays were an aphrodisiac and they desire sex more when they are away.

The three main reasons for this were

'I feel happier because the weather is nice', 'People are wearing less and that makes me horny' and 'I'm more likely to party when the sun is out'.

And 54% of men and 46% of women have cheated on their partners while on a break in the sun.

The most popular events for male cheating were stag dos (22% of men have had a fling while away with their mates before a wedding) and 18% of women have been unfaithful on a hen do.

Lots of us have been caught out having sex outdoors (happening to 31% of men and 28% of women).

Nine out of ten men (91%) and 88% of women agree that 'what goes on tour stays on tour' (they would not tell on a mate who had cheated on their partner while on a break with friends).

The best thing about sex outdoors is the spontaneity, chosen by 68% of men and 66% of women.

The worst things about sex outdoors

were lack of comfort (62% of men and 68% of women) and fear of getting caught (54% of men and 61% of women).

Half of couples, 52% of men and 48% of women, said they hoped to have sex outside this summer to celebrate the end of lockdown.

Jessica Leoni, sex and relationship expert at IllicitEncounters.com, said: "We have just gone through the most miserable 16 months.

"We're looking forward to a summer of loving with more adventurous sex, fun on the beach and lots of affairs.

"Our data shows a surge in cheating which starts in July and runs right through the summer as we go out and party more.

"When people in a relationship go away with their mates, they often see it as an opportunity to cheat.

"That mentality of 'what goes on tour stays on tour' remains for both sexes. A fling in a foreign country feels much less harmless than seeing someone when you are at home."

Tractor woman tried to crash July 4 parade

A WOMAN was chased by cops after attempting to crash her town's July 4 parade on her antique tractor.

Laurie Bostic, 61, was filmed arguing with cops while chugging alongside the parade on her 1950s Ford 851 Powermaster after ignoring warnings that she was barred from joining in.

A slow-moving police car and officers on foot in Rockwall, Texas, tried to capture Bostic over the 'dangerous way she was operating her tractor'.

One local woman claimed Bostic even came close to hitting spectators.

Bostic then drove the tractor away, before police vehicles finally forced her and the tractor off of the road.

Bostic (above) eventually crashed into a chain-link fence before being taken into custody and transported to the Rockwall County Jail.

The Atomic Spy... man who started the Cold War

THE man who would become known as the Atomic Spy is better remembered for his cold-blooded betrayal than for his science.

Klaus Fuchs, a brilliant German theoretical physicist, handed the Soviet Union secrets that allowed it to accelerate its Cold War work on a nuclear weapon.

But he was also once a trusted scientist who made crucial contributions to the infamous Manhattan Project.

It was his work on that which led to the development of the nuclear bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki 76 years ago, killing more than 100,000 people.

"WHAT does one make of a man many considered a hero for fighting the Nazis and whom many others considered a traitor?"

That was the question posed by author Nancy Thorndike Greenspan when she tried to answer both in her book Atomic Spy.

Klaus Fuchs was born in 1911.

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

His father Emil instilled in his children a belief that they must pursue what is right and just, no matter what the consequences.

Moral

In another era, this rigid moral code might have made Klaus a revered figure.

But in the chaos of Germany as the aftermath of the 1929 economic crash stoked a growing fascist movement, it led him to communism and its utopian promises of social equality.

As the Nazis rose to power, the Fuchs family's resistance to fascism tore it apart.

His mother, Else, killed herself in 1931. One of his sisters did the same a few years later.

Emil was briefly imprisoned, and his three surviving children fled Germany.

In 1933, facing arrest because of his political activities at university, Klaus found temporary safety in the United Kingdom.

Only 21, and already a promising physicist, he continued his studies in Bristol, publishing a key paper on the conductivity of thin metallic films.

In 1937, he moved on to the University of Edinburgh to work for a fellow refugee, the quantum-mechanics pioneer and later Nobel prize-winner Max Born.

When the UK entered the Second World War, it declared Germans enemy aliens. Born, by then a British citizen, was exempt.

But in May 1940, Fuchs was sent to an internment camp, where German communists, Jews and Nazi prisoners of war were crammed together.

He was to be bounced between facilities, eventually ending up in Quebec, Canada.

Among the most horrific passages in Greenspan's book are the descriptions of the UK government's bungling and inhumane treatment of detainees.

Greenspan details a harrowing sea journey, on which prisoners were forced to clean up human poo with their bare hands.

The awful experience hardened Fuchs's views, and in the camps he came into contact with a prominent communist, who may have helped recruit him to spy for the Soviet Union.

Technical

Released in late 1940, Fuchs returned to the UK, where he worked in Birmingham with Rudolf Peierls, another German-born physicist.

Peierls was involved in a secret project to build an atomic bomb, and Fuchs started providing technical information about it to the Soviets, handing over documents in secret meetings.

In 1943, he was sent across the Pond to work on the Manhattan Project, the U.S. atomic bomb programme.

The demand for scientific talent was high, and authorities did not dig too deeply into Fuchs's past.

In New York, and later in Los Alamos, New Mexico, he had a secret rendezvous with a Soviet agent.

To him he handed detailed information, including the design for "the Gadget", a plutonium bomb.

A similar bomb was dropped on Nagasaki, Japan, in August 1945.

After the war ended, Fuchs returned to work at the British nuclear research institute at Harwell, then Berkshire but now in Oxfordshire.

Uranium

There, he headed the theoretical-physics division, working on gaseous diffusion to enrich uranium, a subject he had studied during the Manhattan Project.

His espionage continued until 1949, the year that the Soviets conducted their first test nuclear explosion.

But by then, the intelligence services were closing in.

Intercepted messages had alerted the United States and the United Kingdom to an atomic spy in their ranks.

Soon, Fuchs emerged as a top suspect.

In 1950, stricken with guilt over betraying his friends, and enticed by a secret-service official's lie that admitting guilt would allow him to stay at Harwell, he confessed.

He was sentenced to 14 years in prison and stripped of his British citizenship. Released after nine years, he joined his father in East Germany.

Ashes

Fuchs died in Berlin in January, 1988, aged 76. He was cremated and his ashes buried in the the Socialists' Memorial in Berlin's famous Friedrichsfelde Cemetery.

So what, then, to make of Fuchs?

It was always clear that he was driven by ideology, not greed.

And he genuinely believed that helping the Soviet Union to get the bomb would make the world safer.

But proliferation as prevention is a view that is hard to fathom these days.

Yet even those who might disagree with Greenspan's charitable portrayal will find much to appreciate about a narrative that captures the heated politics of that era with lessons for our own.

With regard to Fuchs's moral legacy, it is not unreasonable to note that Werner von Braun, the German rocket scientist who helped the U.S. in the space race, is regarded by many as a hero despite his earlier work for the Nazis.

Conviction

Yet Fuchs, who risked his life to battle Nazis, is remembered mostly for his later betrayal.

Is it better to serve all masters faithfully, as von Braun did, regardless of their righteousness?

And so we are left wondering how things might have turned out had the UK government had decided not to send Fuchs to a detention camp purely for being born German.

When Harwell's head of security visited Fuchs's house after his conviction, he found under the bed the uniform the scientist was forced to wear at that camp more than a decade earlier.

In the end, though, the most persuasive defence of Fuchs came from his father.

Like "the mass of our bourgeoisie", his father Emil said, "he found under the bed the uniform the scientist was forced to wear at that camp more than a decade earlier."

He added: "Then maybe my children, like so many, would have died for Hitler instead of their own convictions," he added.

CASH MACHINE THIEF CAUGHT BALLS-DEEP IN A PONY

HAVE YOU NEIGH SHAME? Blatchford (above)

A MAN who tried to steal a cash machine from a petrol station was caught when cops found him hanging out the back of a PONY.

Jacob Blatchford, 37, was captured on CCTV attempting to rip out the ATM from a petrol station in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Police spokesman Kevin Malatesta said Blatchford stole a truck, trailer and excavator from different locations, then used the excavator to break through the outer glass at the petrol station and tried to rip the ATM out of the floor.

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Alarm

Blatchford, who had his dog with him, fled when the alarm sounded.

Nine days later, Blatchford was arrested in Pima County, Arizona, for sexually assaulting a pony at a petting zoo.

According to court documents, Blatchford allegedly jumped the fence of a property near Old Spanish Trail and committed sexual acts with one of the horses. Arizona cops charged him with bestiality and burglary for the petting zoo outrage.

Last week Blatchford reached a plea deal, pleading guilty to attempted theft and burglary in the third degree.

The bestiality charges were dropped as part of the deal.

At the end of any sentence, he will be extradited to Wyoming to be tried for the attempted ATM theft.

A police source said: "This varmint is a low-down skulldugging hornswaggler."

Snake bites balls of old shitter

A MAN was bitten in the bollocks by his neighbour's pet python after the snake escaped through a drain and ended up in his toilet.

The snake sank its teeth into the 65-year-old as the old boy was trying to have a shit in his apartment.

Police Graz, Austria, said the man had just sat down when he felt a "pinch" on his genitals and jumped to his feet, only to find a 5ft albino python staring back at him.

The snake's owner had been referred to prosecutors for negligent bodily harm. It is unclear if he will be charged.

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Why do the powers-that-be care so much about foreigners?

UNKEMPT: PM Boris Johnson

DO you ever get the feeling that the powers-that-be give more of a toss about people from other countries than they do about those from their own?

In this desperate age of 24/7 forelock-tugging and virtue-signalling, the three main parties are wedded to the idea that all we voters really want is to heal the world.

Well, the rest of the world, anyway. Labour, which just scraped home in the Batley and Spen by-election last week, spent much of its campaign time confusing the Yorkshire constituency with the disputed southern Asian territory of Kashmir.

Yes, that'll be the Kashmir long fought over by its squabbling neighbours India and Pakistan.

So, not quite in God's own country, then.

And also a region of the world that, with the greatest of respect, relatively few from Batley and Spen have ever been to and fewer still care about.

Quarantine

Or the party's other obsession with all things Palestine, a hot topic on uni campuses and at Jeremy Corbyn's mung bean supper club, rather than, say, Middlesbrough.

The Lib Dems, of course, led by the utterly uninspiring Fungus the Bogeyman, will offer anything to anyone if they think there's a vote in it. Which for them, there usually isn't.

And now we have Boris Johnson, who has decided to start paying for every incoming person's quarantine bill. Unless you happen to be British, in which case you have to pay for yourself.

In one of the posh papers on Monday, it was reported that "the Department of Health and Social Care is being forced to draw up a new subsidy scheme that will cut the quarantine bill for travellers from red list countries suffering financial hardship."

The report added: "It raises the possibility of costs being reduced or waived for tens of thousands of arrivals into the UK."

"It could also lead to a rise in travellers from high-risk countries who were previously deterred because of the cost."

Which is a long-winded way of saying we're opening the doors again but you and I are also going to foot the £1,750-per-head quarantine bill for people from countries where their unvaccinated compatriots are still dropping like flies from COVID-19.

Wobble

Why? Why are they doing this?

Why are they, unlike almost every other country on the planet, agreeing to effectively PAY people to come here?

Isn't the country skint enough already?

If Boris Johnson thinks that is the way to people's hearts and, more importantly, to their decisions at the ballot box, then he needs to give that unkempt head of his a wobble.

Isn't it bad enough that most of us will still struggle to get away this year, whether it's because of COVID jabs being accepted or not by foreign regimes?

Or because we can't afford to spend 10 days in a cramped hotel abroad with the wife and two kids before flying home three or four days later in any case, because we're then due back at work?

No, Boris appears to think, let's make it even worse by making taxpayers pay for any other bugger from anywhere to get "free" quarantine accommodation.

Why not go the whole hog and throw in some "free" housing, too?

We help water pistol robber get out of jail

A MAN who has spent 40 years in jail for holding up a shop with a plastic WATER PISTOL may finally be released after his plight was highlighted by Midweek Sport.

Arkansas governor Asa Hutchinson announced he plans to commute the sentence of 70-year-old Rolf Kaestel, who made off with $264 (£190) after he robbed Senor Bob's Taco Hut in 1981.

Filmmaker Kelly Duda, who first brought the case to public attention, said: "Forty years is way too long to spend in jail for a water pistol robbery of $264."

"While I'm grateful to Governor Hutchinson and to everyone who supported Rolf Kaestel's release, it shouldn't require a critical mass of influential people to right this wrong."

Others who pushed for Kaestel's release included the cashier at the taco stand who was robbed by Kaestel.

Kaestel (above) is expected to be eligible for immediate parole on August 4.

371 variants to popping your cherry

THE age you lose your virginity may be written into your genetic code, boffins have found.

The study revealed 371 genetic variants that contribute to when people first have sex, or when they have children.

So, no matter how hard you try, when you pop your cherry may be impossible to change.

"We anticipate that our results will address important interventions in infertility, teenage sexual and mental health," said study leader and professor Melinda Mills, of posh Oxford University.

The study used data collected from thousands of British people, including when they first had sex.

It involved using a database called UK Biobank, which contains health and genetic data for people in the UK.

RANDY GODZILLA PIGS' ATOMIC SEX FRENZY

Radioactive porkers making bacon with farm sows

BANGERS: Boar (right) do it piggy-style after Fukushima disaster (left)

RANDY glow-in-the-dark radioactive wild boar have been breeding with domestic pigs to create a terrifying Godzilla-style hybrid species, warn boffins.

The snorting beasts are one of the many bizarre outcomes of the 2011 Fukushima nuclear power plant disaster in Japan, when it leaked deadly isotopes after being hit by a massive tsunami and earthquake.

Scientists studying radiation impact on wildlife say a hybrid species of wild boar and domestic pigs is now marauding around Fukushima.

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A genetic study found that wild boar have since cross-bred with domestic pigs which had escaped from farms in areas deserted after the tsunami and earthquake displaced over 160,000 people.

Mating

Hunters have been tracking down hundreds of radioactive boar with registered levels of the radioactive element caesium 137, 300 times higher than is safe.

Fukushima University scientists used genetic testing to track the impact of the radiation on wildlife in a regional DNA investigation.

The study, published in journal Proceedings of the Royal Society, made the unexpected discovery that the boar had been mating with pigs.

The wild boar from surrounding mountains gradually moved into depopulated towns, meeting domestic pigs which ran wild after farmers were forced to flee the area.

The genetic sequences of 338 wild boar collected between 2006 and 2018 from across the region were analysed, with scientists discovering that at least 18 of them displayed a so-called 'biological invasion' of domestic pig genes.

The findings are remarkably similar to the fictional story behind the Godzilla movies, in which a mutated monster from the deep is unleashed by a nuclear event.

However, Donovan Anderson, a research scientist involved in the study, said the mutant pig genes would most likely be diluted with each future generation.

Go on Demi, just a little further...

DISHY Demi Rose teased fans with a sexy Instagram snap in which she lowered her shorts.

But not quite far enough!

The 26-year-old Brum influencer, who recently joined OnlyFans, was busting out of her skimpy pink and white top in the sultry picture.

One fan slavered: "Come on Demi, pull them down just a few inches further and show us the minge!"

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexi,

MY secretary is 21, with long, blonde hair and a fantastic body and every Monday morning in the office I get all the details about her filthy one-night stands.

A couple of months ago I told her that it was my 40th birthday soon and laughingly asked her for a blowjob to celebrate.

To my astonishment, and delight, she said yes and added that she had been wanting to please me sexually for quite some time.

I was rock-hard as she sucked me off to completion in my office. Since then we have been shagging, too.

Now a regional manager's job has become vacant and she wants it. I don't think she's suitable, but she says if she doesn't get it I can't shag her any more.

What should I do?

FE, Tyneside

Bexi says...

PROMOTE her - you should be guaranteed plenty of office fun!

Dear Bexi,

I'VE just got back from a girls' holiday in Crete, where I had my first lesbian experience.

There were 20 of us in total but there were a few of the girls I didn't really know, friends of friends kind of thing.

One girl in particular caught my attention. She was blonde, with a body I'd die for, and had a really bubbly personality.

One night me and this girl got separated from our friends and somehow ended up going for a midnight walk along the beach.

The warm sea breeze and alcohol must have got to our heads because it wasn't long before we were kissing and caressing each other as the surf lapped against our feet.

I quickly came as she thrust her tongue in and out of my mouth and probed my vagina with her fingers.

Does this mean I'm a lesbian?

AM, Lincolnshire

Bexi says...

NOT at all. Just put it down to a holiday romance.

Hotel guests complained about our sizzling romps

Dear Bexi,

I'M a pretty fit 50 and my wife is 15 years younger than me and a real looker.

We have a very active sex life and I like to make sure my missus is completely satisfied.

I would hate to think she wasn't pleased by me in the bedroom, because it worries me that she might find another younger bloke to shag instead.

Recently, we went on holiday to Majorca and stayed at a lovely hotel a pal of mine had recommended a couple of years ago.

We had a great time there - lounging by the pool during the day, going for candlelit dinners in the evening and then back to our room for red-hot sex sessions.

Unfortunately, we were in a room on the ground floor and a young family spotted us at it one night when we forgot to draw the curtains!

It wasn't the first time, apparently, and we got banned from the hotel after the manager had received a few complaints about our romps.

Is this right?

RS, Lancs

Bexi says...

JUST go to a different hotel.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXI WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

My well-hung hunk is a shooting star!

Dear Bexi,

I'VE been reading reports that say blokes these days have got a low sperm count and that even the fluid the sperm is in is in short supply.

Well, I don't know what they base their figures on, or where they did their research, but they should have come round to check out my fella.

When it comes to shooting out a load, then my man is the best I have ever been with.

Going down on him and giving him oral is definitely one of the best treats of my life.

I always look forward to climbing into bed with him and getting my lips round his tasty cock.

Not only is it very tasty, but he lasts one hell of a long time – and when he does finally shoot his load, then there is no shortage at all.

The thick, delicious jizz seems to spurt from him forever and a day.

I have loads of orgasms as it smotheres my face and have even more when I use my fingers and wipe the creamy stuff from my face and then give my fingers a good sucking.

Juicy

Then, of course, it's his turn to provide me with some tongue action and he's certainly an expert.

First, he spreads my thighs wide while I pull my juicy pussy lips apart for him.

Then he laps at my aching quim for ages while I diddle my hard little love-button to bring on even more shattering orgasms.

This gives him time to get his strength back and soon he's on top of me, pumping that magnificent tool deep and hard inside me until he comes all over again.

So I reckon the researchers have it all wrong. What do you say?

WJ, Essex

Bexi says...

I say lucky you!

Dear Bexi,

I RECENTLY had my head shaved and the girls at work love rubbing my smooth bonce.

I got a hard-on when one was doing it and she told me to go for a tug.

What shall I do?

HS, Birmingham

Bexi says...

ASK for a handjob!

Hot babe made me gush in park bush

Dear Bexi,

ISN'T it just amazing how a little bit of sunshine seems to bring all the nice women out?

The other day I went for a walk in the park and couldn't believe the number of horny babes in short skirts.

At one point I didn't know which way to look, but then one particular lassie caught my eye.

She was a blonde stunner with a body to die for and was wearing a tiny tartan skirt and knee-length boots.

Now I regard myself as a bit of a smoothie with the ladies and it wasn't long before I grabbed her attention.

We sat down on the grass and my tongue was soon down her throat.

After a few minutes of hoovering each other's faces, I suggested we sneak off into one of the bushes.

She was up for that and quickly had my trousers down to my ankles before dropping to her knees to suck on my cock.

I was soon ready to explode, so I bent her over and fked her doggy-style.

When we'd both come, the saucy minx just put her knickers back on and walked off without saying a word.

What do you think about that?

DG, Glasgow

Bexi says...

YOU copped off lucky, pal. But I'd be a bit careful about picking up strange women in parks.

Dear Bexi,

I WAS enjoying a blowjob from a barmaid behind the pub beer garden and I was certain no-one could see us.

But just as I came on her 34DDs, I'm sure I saw the missus looking over the wall.

She hasn't said anything – yet – but she is being very cool towards me.

What should I do?

DS, Norfolk

Bexi says...

SAY nothing and pray it wasn't her.

Dear Bexi,

I HAVE this crazy fantasy and I just have to share it with you.

It starts off where I am naked in a garden and have cream rubbed into my breasts and jam smeared generously over my erect nipples.

I then want a thick carrot pushed deep into my juicy fanny by another woman.

She masturbates me with it, slowly building up the power and speed until I have a massive and uncontrolled orgasm.

While she is working the carrot in and out of my aching pussy, I have this man come along and lick the jam off my tits.

He then pushes his hard prick between my eager lips and I suck him off vigorously until he shoots his thick wad of hot jizz down my throat.

Nobody says a word, it's just raw lust as we roll around in a sticky mess of sweat and love juice.

After we have all been satisfied, the other two get dressed and go their separate ways.

Is this an odd thing to wish for?

JO, Somerset

Bexi says...

THAT rather depends on what type of jam you're considering. My favourite is blueberry.

#MY SEX FANTASY

...WITH ARIA
GIOVANNI,
34D-25-35
FROM TOOTING,
SOUTH LONDON

I HAVE a wild sex fantasy... partner swapping!

I get really turned on by the idea of going to a sex club with my man and then us pairing off with complete strangers.

What would be really hot would be for us to watch each other get it on with someone else in the same room.

I'm not totally sure of the psychology behind it. I can get jealous, but the thought of my boyfriend shagging another girl is so horny.

I fantasise that he is pounding a sexy woman doggy style and I'm being pounded in the same position by a stranger.

And we both get off on taking in that sexy view of each other.

Perhaps me and the girl kiss in the middle, and caress each other's boobs... now that would be super hot!

My mind is racing now... OK, sod it, my fantasy is a full-on orgy. Why not?!

I'd love two guys at once, me sucking one man's cock while being pounded from behind is very hot!

I just realised I got greedy and pushed the other girl out of the equation. Oops!

NAUGHTY Nicole Smith has a very sexy hobby, she loves watching STRIPPERS!

The 32D babe, from Maidstone in Kent, said: "I just love going to strip clubs. Well, I did before all this lockdown business!"

"I used to go occasionally with my male mates, or boyfriend, and one time I went with the girls."

"I enjoy having a perv at the hot dancers just as much as the blokes do!"

"And when I went with a fella I'd get lap dances as a couple as it really got us in the mood."

"I absolutely love watching a really fit girl doing her thing on a pole."

"It's so elegant and really is an art form."

She added: "Big knockers, a peachy bum exposed in a thong, toned thighs and tum and a golden tan... such a turn on!"

"I don't mind him gawping, it's just human nature."

"We'll pick out a cute girl to get a private lap dance from. It's such a thrill watching her gyrate up against us."

"And when we go home after, we always have wild sex."

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

ANNA TAVERNER

ACCOUNTANT Henry Dryden studies numbers for a living, but there's one number he rates higher than most and that's Anna Taverner's 32Ds.

The maths whizz, 46, spends his days totting up figures but he really enjoys the sight of Anna, from Richmond in North Yorks, when he can.

Henry, from Hull, said: "Everyone thinks accountants are dull and stiff, but I get really stiff for Anna."

"I'm a typical bloke and I love nothing more than ogling her bare boobs. Can I have another look?"

MARICA CHANELLE

BAR worker Kyle Radley has a real penchant for blondes and says Marica Chanelle is his ideal woman.

Kyle, 43, works in a bar in Glasgow, and although he spends his shifts mixing drinks, Italian stunna Marica is his perfect concoction.

Marica caught Kyle's eye when he first saw her 34E bare boobs in the Sport and he's been hooked ever since.

He said: "Marica has everything, the boobs, the body and the looks."

"She's a worldie!"

KIRSTEN IMRIE

BUTCHER Neil Gallagher wants to serve up his own meat for veteran glamour girl Kirsten Imrie.

He owns his own business in north London and his shop is popular for its award-winning sausage, which the 60-year-old would love 36C lovely Kirsten to sample, too.

Neil said: "She's a cracker, is Kirsten."

"I'd love for her to sample some of our specials, and if she's lucky, she can taste my very own sausage treat, too!"

B RUMMIE beauty Lucy James is loving Love Island but she can't believe favourite Shannon Singh got booted out in the first week.

Lucy, who has 32D charms, said: "They'd only just gone into the villa and Shannon got the boot. What's that all about?!"

"Watching how the dynamic develops between the contestants is the best part of the show."

"OK... that and seeing all the gorgeous lads with big bulges in their swimming shorts, of course."

"Yes, I like that as well!"

STAY HINT: Harry Kane

Kane feels the love at the Lane

HARRY Kane says he "feels loved" at Tottenham as he dropped a big hint that he will be staying at White Hart Lane.

Speculation has been rife that the England skipper would be moving on this summer.

But potential buyers like Man City have been scared off by a price tag north of £100m.

And Kane has given Spurs fans hope that he'll still be at the club when the new season kicks off next month.

If he does, he'll be working with new gaffer Nuno Espirito Santo.

Kane said: "Whenever a new manager comes in, I guess there's a level of excitement around the club. Obviously, I've not been there and not had any contact with him.

"I'm away with England now and my full focus is on here. Hopefully, we've got a week left.

"He's a great manager and did a great job at Wolves and got them playing a really good way.

Wanted

"Let's get back and I'm sure we'll be in contact after the tournament.

"Of course as a player you want to be wanted, you want to feel like you're loved, which I do.

"I haven't had the chance to talk to any of these people yet. I'm sure we'll get to know each other after the tournament, have a phone call or two once I get a week or two of holiday.

"To get praise from big people from football is great, it gives you confidence, it gives you motivation so of course it's nice to hear."

Kane many not have spoken to Nuno but he has been in contact with his former boss Jose Mourinho.

He added: "He's been texting me.

"It's common knowledge we have a great relationship and got on really well.

"I really respect him as a manager and person. I wish him all the best at Roma. It is great to have one of the best managers in the world on your side."

THE THREE LIONS JUST ONE STEP FROM

SEMI FLOP SPURS ON TRIPPIER

Kieran: England won't make same mistake as World Cup

KIERAN Trippier says England are a much better and smarter side than the one that missed out on the 2018 World Cup final.

The Three Lions had heartbreak when losing to Croatia in Russia two years ago.

England went 1-0 up in that semi before letting the lead slip away as the Croats went through in extra time.

Gareth Southgate's men are trying to bury a major tournament hoodoo against Denmark tonight.

They have played in three big semis since 1966 and been beaten each time — twice on penalties.

Trippier believes this England squad have enough class and ability to go all the way this time. He said: "I think from the two years the team has changed a lot and we are in a position now where we just want to create our own history. That's all we want to do.

"There are only maybe six or seven of us from that World Cup team, we have got so much good young talent now.

"It is there for everyone to see the attacking players we've got and I think we've taken that step forward from 2018.

"The Nations League we were in the semi-final and now we are playing Denmark — we have made a real good progression over the years."

Trippier is a former Tottenham team-mate of Christian Eriksen who collapsed in the first game of the tournament.

That has brought the Danes together on a wave of emotion that has seen them win their past three games to make the semis.

Trippier is just relieved that Eriksen appears to be making a full recovery.

Better

He said: "We were on the coach, before the Croatia game. We saw it on the screens.

"It's just important that he is here with us. He's getting better, he's making progress. It's just hard to put into words because I have played with him. I was close with Christian.

"The most important thing is he is getting better. I messaged him. I didn't do it straight away, I messaged him through social media.

"This is the time to give him privacy, with his family and his children. We just want him to make progress in his recovery."

Harry Maguire is another player who was in action for that World Cup semi-final.

And he wants to remember the bad feeling at the final whistle to spur him on tonight.

Maguire said: "It's the semi-final of the European Championship. Losing the semi-final at the World Cup hurt a lot.

"So we need to make sure when it comes we get a positive feeling rather than the one we got against Croatia.

"I think we're in a lot better place than we were. The experience of that, we've learnt from it and also the experience of the games in between as well, for example the Nations League.

"We've had a lot of big games in that period to improve and a lot of time spent together on the training pitch, friendlies and qualifiers. Every game we play we feel we improve."

Leaders

"In this tournament, from the first game to the Ukraine game, there's a lot of differences in the principles that we're demanding from each other."

"Of course we're in a better place now, but we've still got a long way to go."

"Denmark are a good team. They've proved that for years, they're a top team, the highest-ranked team we will have played in this competition."

"They're a strong team with great leaders in their team, great experience."

"We know it will be a tough game, but we're just really focused on ourselves."

Maguire believes the credit for England doing so well at the past two tournaments is down to gaffer Gareth Southgate.

He added: "He sits here and gives us all the plaudits."

"But we appreciate the job he's doing and the way that he sets us up and his man-management skills."

"I can't speak highly enough of Gareth and his coaching staff and the way that he's gone about his business over the last four years."

Covid bowls out England ODI squad

CRICKET By ANDY MILLOM

ENGLAND are being forced to name an entirely new squad for the one-day international series against Pakistan that starts tomorrow.

That's after a Covid outbreak in the camp that has hit three players and four backroom staff. It means the whole operation has to isolate for the next ten days.

Ben Stokes was not in the original squad after suffering a finger injury — but he is coming in to captain the team. The series kicks off in Cardiff with a game at Lord's on Saturday and Edgbaston three days later.

There are also three Twenty20 matches from July 16-20.

Tom Harrison, ECB chief executive officer, said: "We have been mindful that the emergence of the Delta variant, along with our move away from the stringent enforcement of bio secure environments, could increase the chances of an outbreak."

"We made a strategic choice to try to adapt protocols, in order to support the overall wellbeing of our players and management staff who have spent much of the last 14 months living in restricted conditions."

"Overnight we have worked swiftly to identify a new squad, and we are grateful to Ben Stokes who will return to England duties to Captain."

"We also recognise the impact this news will have on our first class counties and their men's playing squads and thank them, along with our partners Sky and Royal London, for their ongoing support in dealing with this pandemic."

ISOLATING: Eoin Morgan

Chris Silverwood was meant to be taking a break from coaching the side but will now return because he was outside the bubble and doesn't need to isolate.

Pakistan have been in isolation since arriving in the UK last month.

Aussie Grand Prix cancelled

THE AUSTRALIAN Grand Prix has been called off for the second year in a row.

Race chiefs have blamed "restrictions and organisational challenges" in Melbourne for pulling the plug on the November event.

The grand prix was called off at the last minute in 2020 after a McLaren staff member tested positive.

Formula 1 chief executive Stefano Domenicali added: "While it is disappointing we won't be racing in Australia this season, we are confident we can deliver a 23 race season in 2021 and we have a number of options to take forward to replace the place left vacant by the Australian Grand Prix."

"We will be working through the details of those options in the coming weeks and will provide further updates once those discussions are concluded."

KANE THE DANES!

England fired up for Euro semi glory

HARRY Kane is primed to lead England past Denmark.

The Three Lions stand just one game away from the Euro 2020 final.

And they need their skipper and striker to be on top form.

Kane says his confidence has never been higher after bouncing back from a lean spell by his high standards. He's scored in his past two games and is desperate to make it three in a row in front of 60,000 fans at a rocking Wembley.

The skipper said: "I've had to prove people wrong to get to where I am now. I have full belief in who I am as a player and what I can do on the pitch, what I do to help the team.

"When you go three or four games without scoring, you want to score and put that to bed and at a major tournament it gets heightened even more.

"But the fact that I have so much self-belief in myself and my team, I don't really let that stuff affect me.

"When you score in a big game, it is natural the emotions come out and you feel free and it kick-starts you to score.

"Whether I score or don't I always feel I am ready for the next opportunity. It's great that I am scoring now and obviously a big semi-final to come but I'll be the same player if I scored or didn't score."
